

STEM CLUB

Teddington STEM made matchbox microphones. With a 1.5V D cell, three wires, a box, 3 carbon rods and a set of headphones, they managed to transmit audio signals from out in the corridor into the lab – clear enough to be heard and to issue instructions that we could watch through the glass window!

MENSA Puzzle

A cycling group are on a five-day ride for charity.

On the first day, they cover one third of the total distance, the next day they cover one third of what is left, the following day they cover one quarter of the remainder and on the fourth day, they cover half of the remaining distance.

The group now have 15 miles left to cycle.

How many miles have they travelled?

Last week's answer: 9. On each row the first number multiplied by the second number, minus the third number plus the fourth number gives the fifth number.

Turing House CoderDojo

We've now been running our termly Turing House CoderDojo events for 2 years, with Dojo number 7 taking place on Saturday, 6th October. The rain did not deter our coders from coming down to Teddington to take part. We had around 50 young people working on Scratch, Python and Web Development projects. Many were working collaboratively with family and friends, and all were able to use our easy-to-follow worksheets to produce simple games and animations, picking up new coding skills along the way.

We are extremely grateful to the volunteers that make these events possible, and we are always on the lookout for new activities that we can include. If you have some generation to prepare for a digital future, do get in touch via our Dojo website. You can also sign up to our Mailing List to receive information about tickets for future events.

We'll be back with our next Dojo in the Spring term!

Year 7 Food Technology

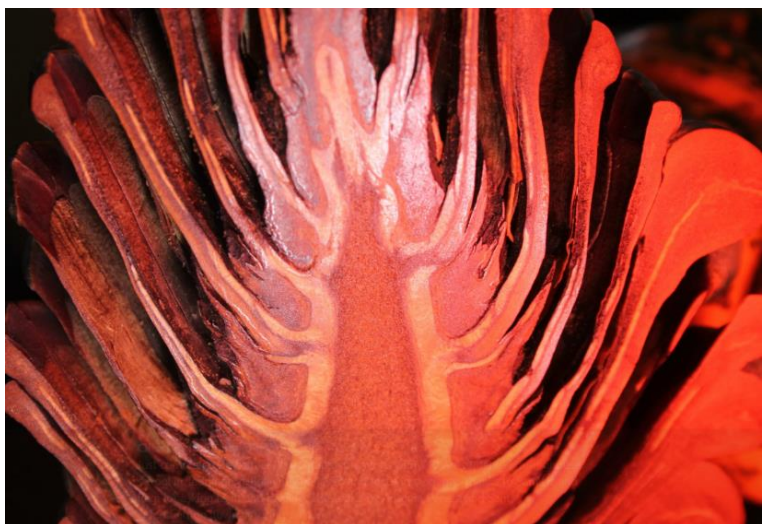

This week was the first cooking session for our Y7! They spent a whole day on the Teddington site cooking three different products: a starter of vegetable crudité with a roasted carrot and cumin hummus, a main of bean chilli, and pudding was crumble.

Students worked incredibly hard; a special mention goes to Yellow Bench, Reuben, Muhra, Willow and Fred, who received certificates for 'Team Work'. All students on Yellow Bench supported each other, were efficient and worked independently. Our 'Top Chef' award went to Reuben who was polite, respectful and hardworking throughout the whole day. Well done to all!
